YOUTH BASKETBALL ACADEMY

Team Nikos youth basketball academy is designed to be the hands on training your sons and daughters need to become the basketball players they envision. They will receive their training from current and former Division 1 and Professional basketball players who have all played the game at the highest levels and we are confident we know what it takes to develop young basketball players and build a great communicator, teammate and leader on and off the court.

Our coaching technique is very hands on and we teach by repetition to ensure your sons and daughters feel truly accomplished and educated every time they leave the gym. All ages and skill levels are invited to participate.

Training sessions are available up to two (2) times per week Wednesdays and Sundays. This equates to 8 training sessions per month for only $125.00 a month. Other trainers charge up to $100 per hour, while we can provide up to 8 hours of training a month at approximately the same cost. This works out to $15 a session. A small price to pay for the improvements your sons and daughters will gain working with Team Nikos coaching staff.

Team Nikos leadership is comprised of a group of all former Division 1 and professional basketball players who are now coaching and are dedicated to developing better basketball players in Orange County, California.

Meet Your Coaching Staff

Coach Williams has experienced many levels of basketball, from playing on the high school varsity team as a freshman, to becoming a starter and competing at the highest level of college sports. Coach Williams previously coached at one of California's Community College powerhouse programs Saddleback, and now helps out at Saddleback Valley Christian.

He became a model student-athlete by listening to his coaches, and applying the fundamental skills he learned to lead his junior college team to an impressive 18-10 record in one of the most difficult regions in the country. His success both on the court and in the classroom, earned him a full ride scholarship the following year to the University of California Riverside, where he became the only team member to start every game that season. As a senior at UCR Steve became a team captain. Leading by example he proved that with hard work and determination he was more than capable of both competing and playing with some of the best players at the college level. He's been a solid basketball player his entire career, averaging 15 points, 6 rebounds, and 3 assists in junior college, and 10 points, 5 rebounds, and 2 assists at the D1 level. As a student, he earned his A.A. with high honors and graduated from the University of California Riverside with a 3.0 grade point average.

"I have had many highlights in my basketball career, but the description below is the legacy I left in my last Division 1 week of college basketball for the University of California Riverside" – Coach S. Williams

"UC Riverside senior guard Steve Williams earned Big West Men's Basketball Player of the Week honors after two outstanding games in his final week of regular season play for the Highlanders.

The 6-5 Guard averaged 21.5 points, 12.5 rebounds and 6.0 assists per game for the week, as the Highlanders went to overtime in both contests.

In an 82-76 defeat to Long Beach State, Williams came up one assist shy of UCR's first triple-double of the Division I era. Williams notched 13 points, 10 rebounds and nine assists against the 49ers in 39 minutes of play. He had the assist on the game-tying three at the end of regulation, which sent the game to overtime.

Williams then provided his second double-double with a career-high 30 points and a season-high 15 rebounds versus UC Davis in a 94-87 win. He made 10 of 15 from the field, including a perfect 5 of 5 on three-pointers. He also sank three free throws in the final 41 seconds to ice the game."
